We will keep the procedure as simple as possible, like always.

Call for workshops

As the programme shows, included in the first newsletter, there is room for a number of workshops on the afternoon of Thursday.

If you (or a group) want to take care for a workshop... send an e-mail to tallinn@chain5.net with your proposal, with the theme, the relevance for level 5, the expertise that you have.

The organization committee will take a look at the proposals and then we will come back to you. Perhaps with some questions, a request for clarification or suggestions for the way to handle the theme – having our community in mind.

Thursday 12 March

14.45 – 17.00 Workshops – thematic groups – developments in Estonia – good practices

14:45 – 15:50 (first round)

15:55 – 17:00 (second round)

Reporting by the thematic groups

First of all there are workshops as follow-up of the conference in Como. A number of thematic groups have been set up there and reports will be made by them in a workshop. The purpose of these workshops is to take stock of the state of affairs, to see what has already been achieved and then to discuss with the participants which aspects of the theme are suitable and relevant for the future. Subjects can therefore be added to the theme, proposed by those who are involved in the workshop.

Estonian themes

As we have done in Como, we will give the floor to our host. There will be workshops offered by Estonian delegates. A lot of things will happen in Estonia in the next decade, and level 5 is part of the process that will take place... having effect on all sectors.

That means that in the workshops a range of topics will be discussed and they can be of great interest for other countries.

New themes

Other workshops by the members can be about new themes, but the intention is to indicate:

- What the relationship is with level 5 of the EQF...
- What is playing when it comes to using the theme in the design of level 5 programmes and qualifications...
- What makes it a good practice...
- Why does this theme lend itself to be used in an international community such as CHAIN5, so why can we learn from each other in different countries and how to deal with this theme...
- How people think they can continue with discussions about the theme, with input from which people and organizations, and what a good form of cooperation is...
- Which other parties outside the education sector can play a role in this (and can therefore be approached via CHAIN5)...

In short, and in view of the above, it should be a theme connected to the level 5 area, internationally recognizable and based on experience gained and existing expertise that can be used for a thematic group.

Asking for support with developments

But it may also be a theme where the workshop indicates what is possibly lacking in knowledge and experience. Then it is a signal to the participants in the workshop that it may be possible to appeal to others. And they can indicate that they are also struggling with the same theme. Perhaps another thematic group can be formed within CHAIN5.

Sessions on Friday 13 March

10:15 – 11:00	Sessions about new themes
11.00 – 11.30	Coffee break
11.30 – 12:15	Sessions for (new) themes relevant for CHAIN5

The outcomes of the workshops, i.e. the list of conclusions and recommendations made with regard to the theme and the aspects that lend themselves to a thematic group or its continuation, will be discussed in sessions with small groups on Friday.

Participants in the conference can also hear about the other topics. They can give their vision and possibly talk about existing experiences.

On the basis of these sessions, during the plenary session will be looked at possible thematic groups that can start their work after Tallinn.

There is a separate session at the end of the conference for the intended chairs and others who want to take charge of a thematic group.

So work to be done...
