A photograph of three young men in a printing plant. They are wearing grey work shirts with red accents. One man on the left is holding up a large white sheet of paper. The man in the center is standing and looking at a large printed sheet with colorful 'U' logos. The man on the right is crouching down, looking towards the camera. In the background, there is a large industrial printing machine with rollers and a control panel. Other workers are visible in the distance.
